PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Just a year ago it was my pleasure to visit Parkdale School for the first time. I shall always recall with gratitude the kind welcome I received then. At this time I feel equally grateful to both the staff and students of Parkdale for the assistance and cooperation extended to me during the past year.

I am sure that you are all looking forward with excitement and anticipation to the summer vacation ahead. With this thought in mind I would like to extend to every student in our school very best wishes for success in your final examinations. Particularly to our Grade IX graduands I would express the sincere hope that in the years ahead you might realize the fulfillment of your life's fondest ambition - regardless of how distant that goal may at present appear to be.

To the members of the 1959 Yearbook Staff I would like to extend congratulations for their faithful and tireless efforts. Mrs. Stambaugh, in particular, deserves a special expression of appreciation for her capable direction of this project.

May I conclude by saying that I trust you will all have a thoroughly restful and enjoyable summer holiday.

T.J. Reid,
Principal

STUDENTS' UNION

YEARBOOK COMMITTEE

VALEDICTORY

We, the Grade Nine's of 1959, have come to one of the most memorable occasions in our lives; the time of our graduation from Junior High School.

It seems so short a time since we were looking forward to the day when we would enter school and be with our older brothers and sisters. Finally, on that bright morning in September, we came to Parkdale to be registered as Grade One's. Rapidly the years rolled by and with the ending of each term, we had the satisfaction and thrill of knowing that some new knowledge had been gained. Before long we found ourselves looking forward to Grade VI where we would be looked up to by those below us, but when that term was drawing to a close, we were proudly anticipating Junior High.

This feeling of pride did not last long because of the rude shock we received in Grade VII. No longer were we looked up to; now we were again considered merely "little people." Grade VII ended; then Grade VIII, and now our last year of Junior High is almost over, but for those of us who wish to go on farther in the field of education, new heights in the form of High School, University or other schools of learning are waiting for us to conquer.

Each member of this 1959 Graduating Class probably has different feelings as he looks back over the past nine years and looks forward to the coming ones; gratitude for the patience that our teachers had with us during these past nine years and for the many sacrifices made by our parents on our parents on our behalf, thankfulness for the educational facilities at our disposal, and anticipation of the future that lies before us.

Having gained many new friends, having participated in many enjoyable occasions and having obtained a desire to better ourselves for the day when we will take our individual places in the world, we are now leaving a school that was instrumental in giving us a start on the pathway of learning. Parkdale, we will never forget you!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Today we are being honoured with these festivities to signify the completion of our studies in this school. We are celebrating not only the end of junior high school, but the commencement of new experiences; just as the setting sun marks the close of day, it also marks the beginning of a new day--the end of one task; the beginning of a new one.

I believe that I can feel free in saying that the Student Union during the past term has been a success due to the earnest endeavors made by the executive. I would like to take this opportunity of sincerely thank each and everyone.

We have fought well in this past year, one which has seen victory and defeat, success and disappointment--a year which has seen us take our wins in stride and our setbacks graciously. In any field of sport from baseball to soccer, from basketball to volleyball, we have fought to win, and have won by fighting. In many ways, both large and small, we have added, to Parkdale, prestige and tradition which will not be lost in school days yet to come.

We cannot forget the priceless guidance of our teachers, who have tirelessly contributed their services on our behalf. We appreciate them for devoting their lives to the great ideal of teaching. To them we express our sincere gratitude.

In a few weeks the final hurdle, final examinations will be encountered. To my fellow students, I wish success, and may they attain the far off goal for which they are striving. I also hope that in years to come our names will reflect credit upon the institution, which was our home, during the formative period of our lives.

Let us always keep our eye upon the horizon, and for now, a fond farewell.

- Duncan Springham -

Russell Moghrabi

Our most interesting student this year in Grade IX is Russell Moghrabi. Instead of asking him the usual questions, we decided to have him write out his own "life story." Here in Russell's own words is his exciting story:

"I was born in Beirut, Lebanon, a country which is located close to the equator between Iraq and Syria. The climate in this region is very hot. In winter we hardly see any snow, because it is a very good tropical country where many different kinds of fruits and vegetables grow.

"My first attempts in school were made in Lebanon. I spent four years learning our Arab language. Then my father promised us a trip to Spain. I went along with the family and stayed there for six months. During these six months, we saw many important places in Spain, but I was too young to know what they were. Then we moved on and came back to Lebanon. Our ship made a stop at Alexandria, in Egypt. We were to stay in Alexandria for one week. During that week, my father found a job and we planned to stay. He worked for one year, then my aunt in Canada made an application for him to come to Canada. My father came, but we stayed in Egypt. After one year's time we came to Canada. On this trip our ship stopped at many places such as Crete, Greece, Tunis, Italy, France, Spain, Tangier, and last of all at Halifax. Then we took the train, passing through Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Lac La Biche, the end of the line.

I have been going to school in Canada for five years. It is a very fine country, but the winter is cold and long. My plans for the future are to obtain a good education in English in Canada, and then go back to Lebanon or Egypt. Because there is a shortage of people in the far East who have a good English education, I hope, once I have mastered this western language, to be able to obtain a good position among my people."
